Pilot Tar Sands Plant Near Ready

Officials of the Cities Service Oil Company plan to have a pilot oil separating plant in operation at the Athabasca Tar Sands in late August or September. The pilot plant, reportedly utilizes heat and mechanical processes. It has been described as the world's largest portable oil refinery but its operation has been kept secret.

Components of the plant have been built in several centres and are being erected at Mildred Lake, about 25 miles north of McMurray. The proposed testing plant is one of several processes put forward by oil companies to separate the oil from the sand. The estimated 600-billion barrels of oil in the 17,000 square mile Athabasca area has been described as the world's largest known oil reserve.

The other directors are Alex Moshuk, Bill Lozinski, Fred Marchesi and Steve Nahirny. Mrs. A. Bourassa is the present manageress.

Guests at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Stan Andrews of Mount Forest, Ont. Lunch concluded a satisfactory meeting.

Lac la Biche Residents On European Tour

A picture of a number of relatives from the Lac la Biche district appears on the travel page in this week's Alberta Country Life. They were among a group taking an extended tour of Europe under arrangements made by Thomas Cook & Son travel agency.

ARRIVING AT NAMAO airport, Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth descended from the RCAF's Royal plane to be greeted Monday night by the Hon. Douglas Harkness, Canada's minister of agriculture, who introduced the Royal Couple to the Hon. J. J. Bowlen, Premier E. C. Manning, Mayor William Hawrelak, along with senior officers of the army, navy and airforce. After a few minutes of conversation the Queen and Prince Philip boarded the Royal train for a good night's rest. A four-hour visit to the City of Edmonton included the announcement of a city-sponsored scholarship at City Hall, a tree planting ceremony at Coronation Park, a visit to veterans and crippled children at Col. Mewburn Hospital and a public luncheon for 1,850 persons at the Legislative Buildings.

Thousands Line Streets For View As Edmonton Opens Heart To Queen

By KEN LARSON

Edmonton met her Queen Tuesday. She was warm, radiant and dainty. The people gave their hearts ot her. And that classic smile told her loyal subjects that Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II appreciated the special western-type of welcome for which the west is noted.

The relaxed charm of handsome Prince Philip drew glances of admiration regardless of the situation—waving from the Royal car, at a dedication, or the luncheon for 1,850 at the Legislative building.

The Royal Couple were greeted by the Hon. Douglas Harkness, Minister of Agriculture, at the RCAF Station at Namao Monday night. Mr. Harkness presented Hon. J. J. Bowlen, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, Premier Manning and Mayor William Hawrelak, along with senior officers of the army, navy and airfore.

The Queen and Prince Philip spent just a few minutes chatting and then spent the night aboard the Royal train at a nearby siding.

CROWDS GATHER EARLY

Crowds began assembling early on the Sunny Alberta morning Tuesday. The Royal Couple were greeted as they alighted from the Royal train by the lieutenant-governor and his daughter, Mrs. Francis P. Mooney, the premier, the mayor and their wives. Since the first public function on the Queen's itinerary was a City of Edmonton responsibility the Hon. Manning and Hon. Bowlen took their leave.

Thousands who jammed 99 Street cheered loudly and were rewarded with wide, glowing smiles and wave of the hand by the visitors.

Mayor Hawrelak's address of welcome probably expressed in more formal form what was in the minds of most of those who jostled one another for a better view. Members of the city council and their wives and city commissioners and their wives were presented.

Her Majesty accepted a gift from the city: a small stirling silver box bearing engraving depicting Alberta's natural resources.

QUEEN SPEAKS

The well-modulated voice of the reigning English monarch announced an annual scholarship of $200, open to the grade 9 Edmonton public school or separate school student with the highest academic standing each year, from a standing fund of $5,000.

While the Royal Couple signed the distinguished Visitors' Book at the request of the Mayor, one young lady found her tummy had suddenly become a host to fluttering butterflies. She was little Terry O'Brian, from the O'Connell Institute, who, in presenting a bouquet of flowers to the Queen, became the heroine of six-year-old girls everywhere.

A slow drive through city streets lined with applauding and cheering city and country residents of northern Alberta brought the Royal car to Coronation Park.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN

The Edmonton School Boys' Band played God Save The Queen. Processional Music followed by the Canadian Legion Pipe Band. Mayor Hawrelak made the dedication address. The name of the park commemorates the coronation of the Quen in 1953. A tree she plant-

Dream Home Won By Housewife

An army housewife, Mrs. O. A. Falfenier, 10915-97 St., Edmonton, won the dream home at the Edmonton Exhibition last week.

Miss Debra Anhorn of Picardville won the Cadillac, one of three drawn for under the auspices of the Kinsmen's Club. Winner of the Dodge was Barry Thomas of 10174-107 Street. Julian Lapushinski of Bruderheim held the lucky ticket on the Meteor car.

Alexa Washman of 11427-160 Street, Edmonton, holds the winning number on the Cessna Aircraft.

Staff Holidays Start July 27th

During the last week in July and the first week in August this paper will not be published. Instead, employees of the Sun Publishing Co. Ltd. will be on annual staff holidays.

In recent years the Company has not been able to get enough extra printers to provide for staggered holidays during the summer season. Solution to the problem has been to skip two issues of the papers.

This also enables local editors and country reporters to get a holiday from the weekly chore of writing news. Every reporter is asked to provide a full summary of the two weeks' news for the week beginning August 10th.

Spruce Valley

Weekend visitors from Edmonton included: Mr. and Mrs. Keith McAuley at the Walter Szwedo home; Mrs. Strumelak at the home of relatives; Mr. and Mrs. Bator and son Eddie with friends, to attend the Bereziuk-Danyliuk wedding; Mike Chomiak at his farm in the district and Peter Homeniuk, employed in the city, at his home.

A large number of local residents attended the Jean Bereziuk—Steve Danyliuk wedding recently held at the bride's home at Prosperity.

Leona, Evelyn and Kenneth Ryl of Edmonton are visiting at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Bereziuk, Sr., while their parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ryl are holidaying in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ilnicki of Blue Jay were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Strumelak and family.

Nick Zilinski was a recent visitor to Edmonton.

When the Romans conquered Egypt in 26 B.C., they collected part of the tribute in the form of Egyptian glassware.

Queen Flies To England August 1

The Queen and Prince Philip are heading home on the last leg of their Canadian tour. After four hours in Edmonton Tuesday, they moved by rail to Wainwright for a swift 10-minute tour.

This week they have visited such Saskatchewan points as Unity and Biggar on Tuesday; Saskatoon, Dundurn, Moose Jaw and Regina on Wednesday. They left Regina Thursday for Winnipeg, visiting rail centres along the way including Brandon and Portage La Prairie.

Saturday they were scheduled to leave Winnipeg by air for Sudbury, planning on a weekend at Port Hope, Ont., July 25, 26. They will arrive in Fredericton, New Brunswick on July 27, visit Saint John and Moncton on July 28, and board the "Britannia" for Prince Edward Island.

They'll be in Charlottetown July 29, visit Cape Breton and Sydney on the 30th and 31st. The Royal Couple are due to arrive in Halifax on the 31st, leaving August 1 by plane for the United Kingdom.

Alberta Weeklies Rate Highly In Competition

REGINA — Four western veteran weekly newspapermen were given life memberships Thursday as the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association started its 40th annual convention. It is the highest honor the association bestows.

Three are from Saskatchewan. They are: Dr. Sam Wynn, publisher and managing director of the Yorkton Enterprise; Andrew King, editor of the Estevan Mercury; Cameron McIntosh, president and director of the North Battleford News-Optimist.

The other is F. P. Galbraith, editor and publisher of the Red Deer, Alta., Advocate.

Prairie newspapers dominated the list of awards given for editorial excellence.

There were 20 awards, including a three-way tie, and Saskatchewan editors won seven of them. Alberta editors scored in five, Manitoba in four, and Ontario and British Columbia in two each.

In the class three division with the best all-around paper competition was won by the Peace River, Alta., Record Gazette.

In class four with a circulation of 1,000 or less, the Nanton, Alta. News took first prize and the Walter Ashfield trophy.

In that class, the Nanton News was first in editorial competition. Best front page also went to the Nanton News.

Following the first-place Powell River B.C. News in sport page competition was the Camrose, Alta., Canadian.

The Banff, Alta., Crag and Canyon won competition B for printing.

Venice

The annual Venice picnic was well attended considering it was late in the season for a picnic.

Mrs. Alvin Mitchell, daughters Marlene and Darlene, and also Margarite Nordin have returned to Edmonton. They spent almost two weeks at the Dan Rowland home while they were away.

Lucy Giacobbo from Edmonton is spending a few weeks at her mother's home.

James and Kenneth Rowland are visiting relatives in Edmonton.

Mrs. Tony Zevola from Edmonton is visiting at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. V. Zevola.

Elma Ilnicki, Johnny Murowchuk Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony

BLUE JAY—In a pretty wedding ceremony Miss Elma Ilnicki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ilnicki of Blue Jay, became the bride of Mr. Johnny Murowchuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Murowchuk of Barrhead. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Meacon in St. Paul Church, Boyle.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a floor-length chiffon gown with lily-pointed sleeves and an Italian neckline. The bodice and skirt were trimmed with lace and sequins which matched her chapel veil and headpiece. The top skirt of her gown was gathered at one point in the front and raised a little above the rest so that layers of lace from the second skirt could be seen. Her only jewelry was a necklace, a single cultured pearl on a fine silver chain and matching earrings, a gift from the groom. Her heart-shaped bouquet was of red gardenias intermingled with lilies-of-the-valley and fern. From the heart fell streamers of white ribbon to which were attached gardenia buds.

The bride's attendants were Miss Stella Ilnicki, sister of the bride, Miss Nadia Alexsuik, friend of the bride, Miss Gail Karpetz and Miss Rose Roskewich, the bride's cousins. They wore cocktail-length pink chiffon dresses with white French lace tops. The waists and skirts were trimmed with pink velvet bows. Their shoulder-length veils were attached to headpieces. They wore white gloves and carried bouquets similar in shape to that of the bride but of blue gardenias frosted with white.

The matron-of-honor, the bride's sister Mrs. Pauline Chipchura, wore a pink net and lace gown of cocktail-length. Her head-piece was identical to that of the bridesmaids except that it had no veil. She wore white gloves and carried white gardenias.

Flower-girls were Vickey Ilnicki, sister of the bride, and Marsha Johnson, the bride's niece. Their pink chiffon frocks were trimmed with white. They wore white gloves and carried nosegays of flowers. Their headpieces were pink ruffled bands. Bridesmaids and matron-of-honor wore cultured pearl necklaces with matching earrings, gifts of the bride. The flower-girls wore tiny gold-filled lockets, also gifts of the bride.

Best men were Mr. Tom Murowchuk, brother of the groom; Mr. John Patruka, Mr. Walter Alexsuik and Mr. Raymond Johnson, friends of the groom; usher was Mr. Wilfred Johnson, brother-in-law of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Ilnicki chose a blue lace gown with white accessories and red gardenias en corsage.

For her son's wedding Mrs Murowchuk wore a dress of blue with white accessories with corsage of red gardenias.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. A supper prepared by the cook, Mrs. Steve Beraska of Wandering River, Mrs. Ilnicki and district ladies, was served.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake trimmed with red roses flanked by tall white candles encircled with tiny red roses and lillies-of-the-valley.

Mr. Walter Ilnicki, brother of the bride, acted as toast-master and Rev. Mr. Meacon proposed a toast to the bride. Later the bride and groom expressed their thanks to everyone to their parents who gave the wedding.

Later in the evening the wedding party and guests danced until the wee hours of the morning.

The bride and groom were presented with many beautiful and useful gifts and $870.00 in cash.

Many guests from points in Alberta and other provinces were present.

Upon their return from a honeymoon in Calgary and the United States Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Murowchuk will reside in their newly-purchased home in Grassland.

COUNTY OF ATHABASCA

Council Hears Report On New Permanent Headquarters Plan

MEANOOK — The continued County Council meeting of June 30, heard the report of the special committee set up to explore all angles related to the establishment of permanent County headquarters. This special committee had met most of day on Monday, preparing their report. The Council accepted the report and authorized its implementation.

The report dealt with the functions of the permanent headquarters; the requirements and services which would be rendered; and listed the basic factions to be considered in selecting a permanent location.

It was unanimously decided that any monies expended in locating the temporary office must be such that could be utilized in the permanent location. Factors considered included: central location in relation to service to the public; the location of the superintendent's office; the desirability of centralizing all administrative offices and services; utilities; special services such as telephone; banking; the availability of county property and buildings; relative short and long term costs and savings; the relative ease of attracting and holding qualified office staff.

Locations considered were Grassland, Boyle, Perryvale, Meanook, Colinton and Athabasca. A detailed list of advantages and disadvantages of each was prepared using the above basic factors and the various points were eliminated until the choice rested in Athabasca.

The choice of the site in the located town was next. The committee had explored the possibilities and had selected the area betweeen the hatchery and the former fire hall. They will also require lots north of the present school shop.

The present plan is to move the vacated Perryvale school to the selected site, renovate it, and make it suitable for office use. Building movers are estimating cost, and the site is being prepared.

A special committee was appointed to handle the details: F. Parr, chairman; A. Aloisio, E. Lozan and Secretary Walter Leskiw and M. G. Cault, superintendent.

THE Homemaker

By BERTHA M. McCUTCHEON

Another New District Home Economist — Miss Edith Witney is going to be married shortly. Here I am to take her place. I hope you will bring me your homemaking problems.

FREEZING SUGGESTIONS

Have you a new freezer ready for the first vegetables from your own garden? Make sure you have the Department of Agriculture bulletin titled "Preserve by Freezing". It is available from this office or from your local locker plant. It will answer most of your questions. Now is the time to get freezing supplies. What is the condition of last year's containers? Have a look at the various types of containers and wrapping materials stocked in your town. You may want to order something new or different.

FREEZER SELECTION

Are you going to purchase a freezer? Chest or Upright?

Chest Advantages—

1. Initial cost less, and operating cost slightly lower.
2. Top of chest can be used for counter space.
3. Storage space more flexible for irregular-shaped packages.
4. When lid is opened—very little exchange of cold dry freezer air with warm moist outside air since cold air is heavier than warm. Thus—less fluctuation in temperature.
5. In order to get at packages in lower section of full freezer, those above need only to be placed on top of another section, not necessarily removed.

UPRIGHT ADVANTAGES

1. Takes less floor area, which may permit you to locate it more conveniently in the kitchen or utility room.
2. Easier access to food. Door racks and shelves permit more organized arrangement of food.
3. Easier to defrost.
4. More space to put food packages in direct contact with freezing surfaces, thus you can sharp freeze more food at one time.

"Rowland's Folly"
Lac la Biche, Alta.,
July 16, 1959

My husband and I, the Rollins and the Gallivers, wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all those who worked so hard to help put out the fire at the beach last Sunday. Those of you who were there know what a holocaust it was, and how easily every cottage on the beach, as well as the surrounding countryside might have been laid waste. If it had happened on any other day but Sunday, it seems certain that this would have been the case.

Thanks to your help, we were able to sleep in the cottage next door that same night. It is impossible to thank each of you personally. There were so many and we were so upset that faces were mere blurs, and so I take this way to thank you all collectively.

We have received many kindnesses in the past from Lac la Biche people. We hope that over the years we may be able to repay at least some of them. Again, our warmest thanks.

Sincerely, MRS. J. C. ROWAND.

Edmonton Rabbi's Son Wins Bursary

The son of an Edmonton rabbi has been awarded a full-tuition scholarship to Roosevelt Univerity, Chicago, according to George H. Watson, dean of students at the university.

He is Morris Postone, 17, son of Rabbi and Mrs. Abraham Postone of 10170 116th St., Edmonton.

One of 11 Chicago area high school seniors to receive an award, Morris will enter Roosevelt in September.

For the past four years he has been studying at the Chicago Jewish Academy, where he also played baseball and basketball, was a student council delegate, and editor-in-chief of the school's year book.

He was among 77 students who took competitive examinations for the scholarships in May. The grants, worth $585 a year, are renewable at the end of each year for four years provided superior grades are maintained.

Times Lauds Albertans

LONDON—The Sunday Times says the relaxed attitude to the Royal Tour displayed in Western Canada is adding a gaiety that was lacking in Ontario.

Referring to the 500-guest steak dinner at Calgary, the paper says Albertans were dressed in sequined shirts, cowboy boots and ten-gallon hats.

"But their manners were perfect. It was the most normal and relaxed social function of the entire tour."

ed when she visited Edmonton as princess in 1951 has been transplanted to the park. The new $134,000 planetarium to be erected in Coronation Park at 142 St. and 111 Ave. will be named the Queen Elizabeth Planetarium. Her Majesty consented to this in her reply to the dedication address of the Mayor.

Many had an excellent view of the ceremony. Bleachers were set up last week to accommodate as many as possible. There were 65 persons, including Mayor John Sehn of Beverly and Mayor Kenneth Newman of Jasper Place and their wives, who were presented to the Queen as representatives of city organizations.

QUEEN PLANTS TREE

The Queen planted a tree, commemorating her visit on July 21, 1959. At 11.30 a.m. they left Coronation Park precisely one hour and 20 minutes since being welcomed by the mayor at City Hall.

The Canadian tour—one of the tightest, most vigorous programs ever undertaken by the Queen, has been timed to five-minute sections, with "overflow" caps laid out to take care of emergencies that could arise at certain functions.

A fast drive down the Groat Road brought the Royal Couple to the Col. Mewburn Hospital for a chat with veterans and crippled children. A slow drive along 82 Ave. to 109 St. and then across the High Level Bridge saw the Royal procession arrive at the legislative buildings at noon, with the mayor's automobile leaving the group as the provincial government's part in the Royal Visit became dominant.

AT LEGISLATIVE BUILDINGS

As the Queen and Duke of Edinburgh approached the buildings they were greeted by the lieutenant-governor and Mrs. Mooney, the premier and Mrs. Manning. Here, the dozens of press photographers, newspaper, radio, wire service and TV representatives found themselves "left on the doorstep." This was understood, of course, in a briefing by tour officials Monday night. Provincial government photographers "covered" with several photos inside the buildings, making the prints available to all news services.

REST PERIOD

A half-hour rest period for the Royal Couple gave the visitors a chance to catch their breath. On the Canadian tour the Queen will shake hands with about 5,000 people, attend 61 formal presentations and 26 major receptions. The amazing Queen will have, during the tour, been on parade for 12 hours a day for 19 days, and for five hours on three days. This is one reason for the outcry now against long tours. Short, informal ones are expected to be the rule in future. Royal visit officials in England originally, begged for few formal functions and hardly any city tours. The most informal celebration to date was at Calgary where the Royal Couple enjoyed a barbecue in a relaxed setting.

LUNCHEON FOR 1,850

A buffet luncheon for 1,850 persons started at 12.30 noon. These people represented over 400 organizations. They were not presented to the Queen. The government had set up eight marquees and a royal marquee on the grounds south of the buildings. The Royal Couple were only able to walk through the grounds, passing by the marquees, permitting the guests to see them as they went by. At the Royal marquee, Premier Manning presented members of the government, the Speaker of the House, and their wives.

As the Royal Procession left at 2 p.m. for the CNR station, Mayor Hawrelak and his wife rejoined the motorcade for a slow drive up Bellamy Hill, along MacDonald Drive and 100 Street.

GOODBYE

Her Majesty inspected the Guard of Honor at the CNR station, composed of the Second Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. Following the inspection, the lieutenant-governor, Mrs. Mooney, the premier, and Mrs. Manning, the mayor and Mrs. Hawrelak said goodbye.

The train left at two-thirty. They will arrive in Wainwright at 5.20 p.m. An estimated 18,000 persons caught a glimpse of the Queen and Prince during their 10-minute drive through the city.

Edmonton is back to normal now. Decorations have been taken away. However, permanent marks of the visit will be enjoyed by many for years to come—the Queen Elizabeth Planetarium, the city's scholarship for grade 9 students, the $190,000 Queen Elizabeth Scholarship Fund by the province of Alberta. And, of course, for thousands of children and adults, there are memories that time can never erase—memories of their charming Queen and her Prince charming.
